

We are a design & innovation oriented outdoor sport multi specialist company that operates in a global and dynamic environment. With our own brands SALEWA, DYNAFIT, POMOCA and WILD COUNTRY, we provide a wide range of products for mountain sports enthusiasts. We are looking for a

Design Intern Apparel Salewa (M/F)

who supports our Design department Apparel for at least 6 months. With this internship, you will get a 360° overview on the overall development of the Brand's design concepts for a given season and you will see the design and engineering of innovative and technologically advanced products that meet the needs of today's mountain athletes.

What you will do:

- Help to execute assigned projects within a multi seasonal time line
- Support the Design Team to develop new and better design solutions following the brand design guidelines
- Support the team in the research of new esthetic solutions, colors and trims, technologies, construction techniques, etc.
- Help to create mood boards, concept presentations & 3D Models
- Help to create sketches and/or patterns, mock ups, and eventually prototypes to explore, resolve, or prove new concepts or construction techniques
- Help to maintain up to date product illustrations throughout the development process
- Help actively the team during presentations of work at internal reviews and annual sales meetings

Your ideal profile:

- University student or degree in Fashion/Apparel design, Textile engineering or Product Design
- First experience in designing technical products, preferably textile based is considered as a plus
- Very good English skills, Italian and/or German are considered a plus
- Good knowledge of 2D illustration software (Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop)
- First experience with CLO 3D is an advantage
- Passion for sports, especially for mountain sports

The office is located in our European headquarters in Bolzano, Italy.

Do you want to improve your skills in a dynamic and inspiring team that works in an international environment? Then apply now and send an e-mail to job@oberalp.it!

